Independent Schools of New Zealand

– who are we?

INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS
OF NEW ZEALAND

Representing the nation's leading private schools

Independent Schools of New Zealand (ISNZ) is the peak body representing private (also known as independent) schools in New Zealand. ISNZ is the only organisation in the country which represents the best interests of independent schools and provides support, professional development, resources and advice specifically related to the private schools sector.

ISNZ represents 50 member schools which, collectively, educate over 85 per cent of children enrolled in private schools. ISNZ is inclusive and celebrates choice and the diversity of independent schools.

ISNZ serves and engages with multiple stakeholder groups within independent schools, for example, heads/principals, board members, bursars and business managers, associate and deputy principals, curriculum leaders, HR managers, marketing and communications managers, health and safety managers, pastoral care managers, international education managers and boarding school personnel. ISNZ continues to develop its database to grow its influence, reach and engagement with different personnel in its member schools.

ISNZ – the peak body with the capability to position providers within a diverse and innovative school sector
